AUDUBON'S ORNITHOLOGICAL WORKS

AUDUBON, JOHN J. The Birds of America from Original Drawings by John James Audubon; 435 large colored plates printed, engraved, and colored by Havell. 4 vols. elephant folio, half Russia. London, published for the Author, 1827-30.

One of the most sumptuous ornithological works ever published; the coloring of the plumage and the exact drawing of the birds can scarcely be surpassed. The birds are represented in action amid the scenes, or on the plants and trees most common to their habits, presenting a variety of land and marine views of different climates and seasons. Its great dimensions have permitted Eagles, Turkeys, and other Birds of the largest size to be represented in their natural size and even in groups. All is combined, says Brunet, to ally in the most happy manner the exactness of individual details with a living and animated representation of general form. The plates were published without any text to avoid the necessity of furnishing copies to the public Libraries of England, agreeably to the laws of Copyright. Owing to the destruction by fire of the stock and copper-plates, the work has become exceedingly rare.

AUDUBON, JOHN J. Ornithological Biography or an Account of the Habits of the Birds of the United States of America; accompanied by Descriptions of the Objects represented in the work entitled the Birds of America, and interspersed with delineations of American Scenery and Manners. Woodcut illustrations. 5 vols. royal 8vo, original cloth, with paper labels, uncut. Edinburgh, A. Black, 1831-39.

First Edition.

AUDUBON, JOHN J. Album containing two original Water-color drawings by Audubon designed for his Birds of America. The first represents "BELL'S VIREO" and is initialed and dated by Audubon Jan. 22, 1844. The other painting represents MORTON'S FINCH, dated by the artist June 8th, 1844, and with his pencilled note "never before figured." Both drawings are remarkable for the delicacy of their coloring and execution. Inlaid is an extremely fine and rare Autograph Letter on one folio page from the famous Naturalist to President Samuel Houston of Texas introducing one of his Assistants to him and informing General Houston of his having "undertaken in conjunction with my Friend the Reverend John Bachman of Charleston, South Carolina, to publish a work incorporating all the Quadrupeds we can procure, along with their Figures or Representations, and again with their Histories," with other interesting particulars. This letter is dated, Oct. 19, 1841. A fine India por-

The representation of these animals has not been so good, as will be seen by the following extract from the first happy review the author has received of his work. "The Birds of America" was published without name or date, and it is difficult to determine where or when it was written. The title of the book is "The Birds of America," and it is dated 1838, though the book itself is much older.

"A very interesting and comprehensive zoological monograph by John James Audubon, who has described the birds of the United States. The author, accompanied by a collection of drawings, has represented in this work entitled 'The Birds of America,' and interspersed with definitions of American Scenery and Manners. Woodcut illustrations. A very royal 8vo original cloth, with paper labels, price £10. Edinburgh, A. Black, 1831-39.

First Edition.

AUDUBON, JOHN J. A work containing the natural History of the birds of America, designed for his son, John James Audubon. "Tome I contains" Basile's Vireo, and the first part of the work. Audubon Jan. 25, 1834. Philadelphia. "Tome II contains" Monroe's Parrot, Kingbird, the Horned Owl, and many others with descriptive notes, some figures of men, others drawn in the crooked line, one drawing of a man, another of a dog, and another of a bird. John is an offprint of the first copy. Autograph letter on one full page from the famous naturalist to President Samuel Houston of Texas introducing one of his Assistants to him and informing General Houston of his having "arranged a conference with my friend Mr. Remond, the subscriber of Charleston, South Carolina to publish a work on the curiosities of the Quadrupeds, as far as possible along with their natural History." The letter is signed "John James Audubon".

London, published by the Author, 1837.

The Birds of Europe were colored by Mrs. Gould, who is acknowledged by competent judges to have been the finest colorist of ornithological subjects of modern times.

A most magnificent work, which for beauty and accuracy stands unrivalled. The celebrated Temminck, in his Manuel d'Ornithologie, emphatically remarks: "The Birds of Europe, sont d'un fini si parfait, tant pour le dessin, la pose et l'exakte vérité de l'enluminure, qu'on pourrait, avec de si beaux portraits, se passer des originaux montés." Only 286 copies were printed, and the work has become as rare as it is beautiful. It is the most perfect in its coloring of the numerous works issued by Mr. Gould.

GOULD, JOHN. Icones Avium, or Figures and Descriptions of New and Interesting Species of Birds from Various Parts of the Globe. With 18 large and extremely beautiful hand-colored plates. 2 parts in 1 vol., imp. folio, full dark green morocco extra,
